Up here in the Sierra, phone signal disappears long before you reach us. That's part of the magic — but it doesn't mean you're cut off. Corral Creek Lodge runs on Starlink satellite internet, beamed straight down from space, so you get fast, dependable WiFi in the middle of the mountains.

Stream tonight

Netflix, YouTube, the game — watch in HD from your room after a day on the river.

Video calls

Check in with family or take that meeting on Zoom, FaceTime or Teams.

Work remotely

Answer email and get real work done with the Kern River outside your window.

WiFi calling

No cell bars? Turn on WiFi Calling on your phone to call and text over our WiFi.

Share the views

Upload your Sequoia and river photos the moment you take them.

Keep the kids happy

Tablets, games and shows that actually load — even deep in the canyon.

Why satellite?

There are no fiber lines or cell towers in this part of the canyon. Starlink's low-orbit satellites give us a direct, high-speed connection to the internet — the same kind of service people use on boats, ranches and research stations. Free for every guest.

You're connected.

Fast Starlink WiFi, free throughout your stay.

Network

Password

No cell signal? Turn on WiFi Calling. iPhone: Settings > Phone > Wi-Fi Calling. Android: Settings > Network > Wi-Fi Calling.

Streaming tip: sign in to your apps before you head out, so movie night is ready when you get back.

Mountain weather: heavy snow or storms can briefly slow satellite internet. It usually returns within minutes.
